Report description: Highlights of the programme work lead by DC that Wikimedia UK has supported in the last three months, and outlines the future projects.

Projects from the last three months

1. Wikimedians in Residence projects – work continued.

- Natural History Museum – extended, continuing. Reports at the bottom of the page here.
- National Library of Scotland – started 8 July, with first report here.
- Jisc Wikimedia Ambassador – successfully recruited, work started 8 July. Further support from TS. Work reported here and here.
- Royal Society – approved spend, recruitment and paperwork in progress.
- York Museums Trust - approved spend, recruitment and paperwork in progress.
- University of Manchester Library – approved spend, discussion in progress, project due to start in early 2014.

2. The National Archives digitisation project part 2

After continuous lack of response from TNA, I have been informed that the WMUK's grant would simply buy images on commercial rate to be added to Commons. This proposal has been rejected – the details of the discussions can be found here.

3. Women in Science events 2013.

I have set up a partnership with Medical Research Council to run a series of gender gap events in 2013, with partners including the Royal Society, National Institute for Medical Research, Laboratory of Molecular Biology, Royal Society of Edinburgh, Wellcome Library. The NIMR event has been covered in Times Higher Education. I am also working with smaller organisations to run grass root events for Ada Lovelace Day October 2013. Ample opportunities for volunteers to be involved in training and contributing.

Projects in the next three months

1. Wikimedians in Residence – continue delivery. Prepare for a review of the program.

2. Women in Science events – continue delivery, with focus on October 2013.
